

Pinner Memorial Park is a locally listed park and garden approved in a 2002 Unitary Development Panel meeting.

The local list description is: 'Pinner Memorial Park: grounds landscaped around West House, former home of Nelson's grandson and later location of Book of Remembrance. Grounds and house purchased through public subscription as a living memorial, for the public to enjoy, of the war'